HOW TO CARE FOR YOUR ORLEANS COUNTERFEIT DIAMOND

Orleans Counterfeit Diamonds require the same care as your genuine diamond jewelry. Individual pieces should be stored in a padded box or container when not in use. Items with chains should be stored separate from each other to prevent tangling. For cleaning, any commercial jewelry cleaner is recommended, or mix your own by adding one (1) part sudsy ammonia to three (3) parts water. Let the jewelry soak in the mixture. This soaking should be a minimum of thirty (30) minutes to as long as overnight. After the soaking, use a soft bristle brush to tap out underneath the stone while rinsing with cool water. Underneath the stone is where a film will develop over time from the normal daily use of lotions, perfumes, powders and body oils. Clean your Orleans Counterfeit Diamonds at least once a week.

Some jewelers will suggest that you clean your jewelry by boiling in water on the stove. This is a very old fashioned way of cleaning jewelry. We do not suggest that you clean any of your jewelry in this way.

Any gemstone jewelry worn for a prolonged period of time without proper cleaning, may require a professional cleaning. If this should occur with your Orleans Counterfeit Diamonds, please feel free to return your Orleans Counterfeit Diamonds to us and we will provide this professional cleaning for you.
